

kirkbydesign

ELEY KISHIMOTO

Fabrics and Wallcoverings

kirkbydesign

ELEY KISHIMOTO

Introducing Eley Kishimoto for Kirkby Design

Working in collaboration with British interiors brand Kirkby Design, London print and fashion studio Eley Kishimoto have developed original artwork from which 12 high quality woven textile designs and intricate prints have been produced, alongside a coordinating collection of multi-textural wallcoverings and a complementary range of ready-made cushions.

Harnessing their expertise in weave, print and colour, Kirkby Design have worked with Eley Kishimoto to masterfully adapt original drawings, experimenting with exciting techniques to create a unique aesthetic, pushing both brands into a completely new realm of creative expression.

Channelling the confidence of 1970s design whilst simultaneously bringing an original modern twist, this unique collection of luxury fabrics and wallcoverings is as bold and graphic as it is tactile and sophisticated. The quintessentially playful style of Eley Kishimoto has been expertly translated by Kirkby Design into intricately woven jacquards, épingle weaves and eye-catching printed velvets as well as shimmering, reflective and flocked wallcoverings.

—

“The collection has an overriding feeling of nostalgia, not saying that it looks vintage, but the emotional provocation it creates is sure to stimulate the creative ideals of anyone who sees it.”

Mark Eley – Eley Kishimoto

“A collaboration in its truest sense; we have challenged each other technically and stylistically, pushing the boundaries as to what we can achieve, arriving at a place not possible to reach without one another.”

Jordan Mould – Brand Director, Kirkby Design

KIRKBY DESIGN
Jordan Mould, Brand Director

ELEY KISHIMOTO

Wakako Kishimoto & Mark Eley

